Welcome to the Revival Run / 24-7 Prayer Guide_

Since January 2011, people have been setting out on God adventures that involve wooden stakes, travelling beyond their own churches and towns and a whole load of prayer. Something that we now call a Revival Run.

These adventures have planted prayer stakes all over the country and beyond with prayers of revival for communities other than our own; for areas that God places on our hearts and that are outside of our own homes and churches.

These prayer moments embrace the notion of 'preferring one another in love' (Romans 12:10) and the attitude of being selfless for the kingdom of God. They are acts of kindness to the stranger and extreme generosity from one church to another as we pray big, fat, audacious prayers of revival for places and people that we may or may never meet.

This prayer breaks down walls; it's a universal prayer of blessing that cries out 'We are one church' and blurs the edges of our church circles, visions and dreams. What would it matter if God poured out his presence in one place and not another? All that matters is that we play our part in calling out for an unprecedented move of His Presence.

What if? People began to to pray for other churches, towns, schools and colleges beyond there communities?

So we want to encourage you, even dare you to... Take a stake, take a prayer and plant in the ground loaded with a cry to Gods heart to pour out a move of God in the land.

The Revival Run story_

If you get woken up at 2am with one of those God inspired moments you know it has to be worth getting up for and I awoke one night in November 2010 in this way, strongly feeling that we needed to partner with a prophetic word over our church that a move of God was going to break out from our region and reach the most northern and western parts of the UK mainland.

I heard a simple whisper_
Would you take a risk with some prayer, take a prayer stake and stick it in the ground wherever you felt God lead you and pray your biggest, most audacious prayers of revival for that place?

Would you have the courage to travel to those places to pray regardless of how foolish it might seem, for a move of fresh God to break out. Would you be the adventure?

Then I thought_
What would happen if people from all over the country, and internationally, began to pray for other towns, other churches and other communities beyond their own territories? Praying the best prayers that they would ever pray for their own town and give them away to another place. Could you imagine!

I saw a vision of trails of fire over a map of the UK being formed from the south to the north, north to the west, west to the east and then they simply went everywhere. It was chaos yet beautiful; it was revival prayers being given away from one place to another.

Can you imagine the possibilities of people willing to go out of their comfort zones on a prayer adventure for another place?

Will you be the adventure?
Take your prayer stake, plant a prayer and post where and when you prayed on our website and be expectant that God will move.

10 Revival Run Commandments_

With every adventure comes the need for a little wisdom for the journey. So we came up with the Revival Run 10 Commandments to make sure that you can be fully prepared and get the best out of your God adventure

1. Stop_ take some time to stop and invite God to invade your prayer adventure.
2. Think_ about where the Holy Spirit is wanting you to go (often it's the place you are already thinking about).
3. Go_ make a plan of exactly where you should go and plant your prayer stake. Think Big, Think Adventure and Think Different.
4. Be prepared_ check out the Revival Run survival kit on the website and check you have everything you need to 'be the adventure'.
5. Travel light // take only what you need_ pack light and travel light. Make sure you have a little money on you and a mobile phone just in case, and remember to let other people know where you are going.

6. Don't go it alone_ Jesus said when you go, go in two's (at least). Draw others into your Revival Run adventure_ who knows they might find Jesus along the way. (Maybe get your youth/house group to go prayer staking together)
7. Get some intel_ its always good to make a little research into where you are going. Why not google 'revival in such and such' and see what comes up? Find out the oldest church in the area or if your brave enough, send out a message in your church to see if anyone knows a church leader you can pray for in that place.
8. Be what it says on the label_ If you are asked what you are doing you have to tell them the truth no matter how foolish it may seem! You are on a Revival Run and wanting God to bless that place_ that is the true reason you are there (and then offer to pray for that person).
9. Be Good News_ Revival Runners pray prayers of blessing and hope, using Psalm 24 as the benchmark of our prayer, inviting the King of Glory to open up the ancient wells of revival and invade that place with his Presence.
10. Be relational_ Each of us are representatives of the Kingdom; co - partners with God in being who He is, right here and now. Which means that a Revival Runner needs to be relational with who-ever they meet and wherever they are. It's likely that God will put people in your path and relationships/connections will be formed all over the place so be sure to leave an impression! (who knows you may even entertain angels)

Stories create faith, faith creates courage and courage creates action_

Each persons Revival Run is unique and has its own story to tell. It's these stories that create faith to believe that God is at work in each of us as well as the places we visit and pray for.

It's these stories that we want every Revival Runner to share through the website, Facebook and Twitter because when we do it fuels
the momentum of what God is doing.

Just imagine loads of sparks of God at work and your Revival Run being a bucket of petrol being thrown all over those sparks!

So when you go on your Revival Run we need you to

1. Make a note of your story, where you went and why.
2. Make your own video diary or photo story (just use the camera on your phone)
3. Upload your story or video through the website, Facebook or Twitter.
4. Make some noise about your Revival Run story and encourage others to be the adventure!
